HOLME, RINGER & Co. Nagasaki, March, 1884.

THE Reported DESTRUCTION of the Storied Pagoda at Canton is contradicted under High Authority. Soon after the Report reached the Canton High Authorities they instructed the Local Magistrate to make diligent enquiries into the matter, and then report. Enquiries were made and truth in the Report. As a matter of fact there is No French Cemetery in the neighbourhood of the Five Storied Pagoda There is one, however, situated in the Too Kum Valley, outside the North Gate, a this was accidentally slightly damaged by some grass-cutters who were in the habit of frequenting it. Protection has now been extended to the place by the Civil and Military Authorities, who have Repaired the Damage and Restored the Cemetery to its former condition, while the High Anthorities have caused the Civil and Military Officials to issue Proclamations strictly prohibiting people from desecrating the ground, This Notice is published to show all people that China is kind to the dead, Her pretent act is a highly laudable one, for which the is entitled to enjoy unlimited blessings from all sources.

By a marrow majority, the Legislative Conneil at Sydner has, says a correspondent of the Queenslander rejected a bill to prohibit the employment of barmaids. The bill was introduced by a private member and was intended less to provide a cure for oppression than a check to immorality Barmaids, it was contanded, were either alayes or decoys. If there were no barmaids many who drink much would drink little, and many who drink little would not drink at all. As for the barmaids themselves, it was olesrly not doemed that in the event of the passing of a prohibitory bill they might go, from bad to worse. What was thought was that they might be employed in the public schools. Those who did not become teachers it was supposed might become seamstresses. So simple a suggestion the Attorney-General held up to ridicule. The proposal to transfer barensida to public schools, he pointed out; was about as same as would be a propossi to nominate publicans for tacant chairs in a priversity bill of the kind indicated would have to travel further than harmside. It would be necessary to extend the prohibition to concert-rooms and theatres. The waitresses at collee palaces and at temperance hotels would have to be dispensed with as well as barmaids. The bill to be consistent, would have to limit a great deal of the employment which is haps, it would be out of ordinary custom now given to women. The Barmaide Bill for him to address his Lordship at the inb was the result of the recommendation of ment, he thought if he did so he migh the shops commission til Victoria. This save his Lordship and the jury a great deal commission held that many of the evils into of trouble in dealing with the case. He which they inquired would cease if an and could be unde of barmaids, and it was to avail himself of a provision of the old thought that if barmaids were not good for Melbourne they could not be good for furnish plenty of matter for lamentation, shadow of a question raised by the defend but the general opinion will be that more harm dian good might have been dime!

A RECENT decision of Mr. Justice Field Chinese to land. He construct the Aqt as aupport of his right to make the application, to land them, and he holds that a certificate is the only avidence which can be produced of the right, to land. This does away with the false and unreliable pard testimony of the Chinese. He holds that a wife cannot enter this country under the cartificate of her hutband. He has thus closed the door through which innumerable country, for had it been held that a Chinahim, and the families of Chinamen would not be bounded by the number of the bounded only in numbers by the ability of the abili Chinaman is taken from the custody of the master of a vessel by writ of habous corpus man is not entitled to dand, and meanwhile the vessel which brought him has left the port, in that case the Marshal can return him to any vessel belonging to the same owner of steamship company. The Attorney General then went over the introduction and the proclamation, Ho draw attention too the fact that the proclamaion was addressed to the people of Hongkong and Macao and the neighbouring coast and that there was an injunction in the proclamation to secretly kill French commanders. The interpretation he put upon this remark was that the people of Hongkong were incited to commit murder in Hongkong. He also pointed out that in the introduction the Editor expressed a hope that the people will employ their strength in arms, and try to out-do one another in the struggle for merit and renown So far as the rest the proclaimation went the Attorney General thought the authorities were perfectly natified in calling upon their subjects wherever they might be to decline to usust the French not to enlist in the French armies and bidding them return to their own country and take up arms in the defence of their own country. That was what any civilised nower might do His Lardship suggested that Mr Francis would argue that the words merelly kill were iddressed to those persons who enlisted with the French, and not to the people of Hongkong at all.

Tromoya gave swidence to the offect that three years age, he was here as Cantain of the S. S. Romulus. He gave defendant an order to paint a portrait of his ship and also of a lady, upon ivory. The price was to be $10. Complainant had at the time, three bills of $100 each and one of $10, and in the hurry of paying, he gave defendant one of the $100 bills by mistake. He found out his mistake shortly aftewards and went to defendant's shop, where he waited until 9 p m, to see the defendant. At about that time defendant returned to the shop and when complainant told him of the mistake he had made the defendant showed him a 210 bill and said that was what he had paid him. The steward's mate on board the steamer owed the defendant money, but the latter had not attempted to get it. The ship left the next day. Complainant was now on board another ship, and would be leaving again in a week.

The case was remanded till to-morrow.
